Re: Tuesday/Thursday Decision Issuance

The Ontario Energy Board (OEB) is pleased to announce that the pilot initiative launched on April 1, 2022, to issue final decisions and final rate orders twice a week, on Tuesdays as well as Thursdays, will now become permanent effective immediately. After a decade of issuing final decisions and final rate orders weekly, on Thursdays only, moving to a biweekly format provides additional flexibility while maintaining certainty and consistency to an established practice.

Please note, final decisions related to publicly traded entities will continue to be issued after the markets close at 4 p.m., EST., and there will be no change to our current practice of issuing other documents such as notices, procedural orders, interlocutory decisions (e.g., confidentiality, issues lists), compliance matters and other correspondence on any business day.

Moving forward we remain committed to providing an effective and efficient adjudicative process that renders decisions in a timely manner, and will continue to look for opportunities to improve our processes through evidence-based outcomes.

Yours truly,

Nancy Marconi
