DECISION AND ORDER
BOARD FILE NO. EB-2005-0524
DATED DECEMBER 21, 2005

New Rate Information
January 2006
Residential Customers - Rate 1 (System customers)

Natural gas prices have increased

The Ontario Energy Board ("OEB") has approved an increase to Enbridge Gas Distribution's Gas Supply and Delivery Charge effective January 1, 2006. The effect on your bill will depend on how much gas you use. For a typical residential customer, these changes will result in an increase of approximately $257 annually, excluding the Gas Cost Adjustment and the one-time Rate Adjustment refund.

Gas Supply Charge

Due to higher natural gas prices, the Gas Supply Charge will increase to 43.1228 cents per cubic metre (" $\text{¢}/\text{m}^3$ ") from 35.3252 $\text{¢}/\text{m}^3$. This price is based on a forecast of market prices for the next twelve months. The forecast price is reviewed every three months and, if necessary, adjusted accordingly to reflect market changes. If our forecasts are over or under our actual costs, we reimburse or collect from customers through gas cost adjustments.

Enbridge Gas Distribution does not make a profit on the cost of natural gas. The price we charge is the same as our cost to purchase natural gas.

Gas Cost Adjustment

The OEB has approved a new Gas Cost Adjustment refund of 1.9301 $\text{¢}/\text{m}^3$ for the period January 1, 2006 through December 31, 2006.

Delivery Charge

The Delivery Charge has increased mainly due to higher commodity-related costs for the coming year. These include the costs of storing natural gas and ensuring that there is enough natural gas in the distribution system to meet the needs of all customers. The increase will amount to approximately $18 for a typical customer per year.

Rate Adjustment

The OEB has approved a one-time year-end Rate Adjustment refund that will amount to approximately $10 for a typical residential customer. The refund will appear on your January bill.

The one-time refund is for gas used from October 1, 2004 to September 30, 2005 and is the result of a difference between the actual costs incurred and the amount you paid over this period.

Residential Rates

Your current bill has been calculated using the new approved rates for gas used from January 1, 2006 as identified below. The annualized impact is based on a typical residential heating and water heating customer who uses 3,064 cubic metres per year.

Gas Cost Adjustment

The OEB has approved a new Gas Cost Adjustment charge of 3.5137 ¢/m³ for the period January 1, 2006 through December 31, 2006.

Delivery and Load Balancing Charges

The Delivery Charge has increased mainly due to higher commodity-related costs that increase the cost of gas losses on the storage and distribution systems. The Load Balancing Charge has increased partially due to higher carrying costs of gas in inventory. The higher carrying costs of gas in inventory are due to the increase in the natural gas commodity prices since they affect the value of the gas in storage.

Rate Adjustment

The OEB has approved a one-time Rate Adjustment refund of 1.1087 ¢/m³, which will appear on your January bill.

The one-time refund is for gas used from October 1, 2004 to September 30, 2005 and is a result of a difference between the actual costs incurred and the amount you paid over this period.

Natural gas prices have increased

The Ontario Energy Board (“OEB”) has approved an increase to Enbridge Gas Distribution’s Delivery and Load Balancing Charges effective January 1, 2006. The effect on your bill will depend on how much gas your organization uses. On average, the increase will amount to approximately 12.4% annually, excluding the one-time Rate Adjustment refund.

The price you pay for the natural gas you use, shown as the Gas Supply Charge on your bill, depends on the terms of your agreement with your gas marketer.

Your current bill has been calculated using the new approved rates for gas consumed from January 1, 2006 onwards. The rates are on the reverse side of this notice.

Natural gas prices have increased

The Ontario Energy Board (“OEB”) has approved an increase to Enbridge Gas Distribution’s Gas Supply Charge and the Delivery and Load Balancing Charges effective January 1, 2006. The effect on your bill will depend on how much gas your organization uses. On average, the increase will amount to approximately 20% annually, excluding the Gas Cost Adjustment and the one-time Rate Adjustment refund.

Your current bill has been calculated using the new approved rates for gas consumed from January 1, 2006 onwards. The rates are on the reverse side of this notice.

Gas Supply Charge

Due to higher natural gas prices, the Gas Supply Charge has increased to 43.0996 cents per cubic metre (“¢/m³”) from 35.3019 ¢/m³. This price is based on a forecast of market prices for the next twelve months. The forecast price is reviewed every three months and, if necessary, adjusted accordingly to reflect market changes. If our forecasts are over or under, we reimburse or collect from customers through gas cost adjustments.

Enbridge Gas Distribution does not make a profit on the cost of natural gas. The price we charge is the same as our cost to purchase natural gas.

Gas Cost Adjustment

The OEB has approved a new Gas Cost Adjustment refund of 1.1702 ¢/m³ for the period January 1, 2006 through December 31, 2006.
